KARLSRUHE 2022

A place of encounter for a prophetic ecumenism

September 1 - 7, 2022

City Monastery St. Francis, Karlsruhe

Who we are

Casa Comun – Our Common House 2022 is a group of initiatives and individuals who joined forces in view of the Assembly of the World Council of Churches to be held in 2022 in Karlsruhe. For the first time, this worldwide church event will take place in Germany. Decisions will be made that will be crucial for the work of the worldwide ecumenical movement for years to come. We want to accompany this process critically by strengthening options for prophetic practice.

What we stand for and believe

We adhere to the vision that another world is possible. As Christians we want to be part of the social movements that break with the supposed lack of alternatives and intend to build the future of a good life for all. During the WCC Assembly, we will focus on the “signs of the times” such as war, climate catastrophe, migration, pandemic, authoritarian formation and exploitation, with a comprehensive program and places of encounter.

Where we will meet

Places of encounter, prayer, listening and learning will be created in the building and garden of the Stadtkloster St. Franziskus (City Monastery St. Francis, address: Rechts der Alb 28 in Karlsruhe-Dammerstock).

There the urgent questions of our time, which also represent an essential challenge for the churches, will be raised and discussed, in all clarity and openness, from the perspective of different religions and world views.
